STRONG PARTNERS FOR OUR STUDENTS

Dear Donors,

With everything we do at Frankfurt School in teaching and research, through conferences and network events, we want to open new perspectives and opportunities. Needs, interests and goals of our students and alumni, as well as those of our friends and donors from the business world and society, are at the heart of everything we do. We collaborate in various ways, to strengthen and inspire the Frankfurt School community. Above all, we support everyone to personally grow.

We are delighted to join forces with our strong partners. Also thanks to their support, we are currently holding excellent positions in international rankings.

The outstanding careers of our alumni make us proud. They enhance our visibility and reputation and contribute to our development. Students need guidance to pursue successful and fulfilling lives and careers. Thus, we ask you to get involved and support our young students with a scholarship.

Scholarships enable young talent to study with us – regardless of their backgrounds or financial circumstances. At Frankfurt School, scholarships mean more than just financial relief. We bring donors and scholarship holders together to foster friendships that last beyond the funding period.

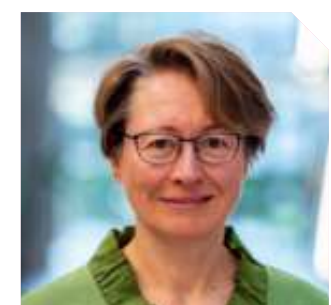

As we are deeply committed to the Possibility Scholarship Initiative, Frankfurt School matches your donation with our own funds.

We hereby ask you to consider to give for this cause.

Best regards,
Prof. Dr. Nils Stieglitz and Ute Stützinger

DONORS' TESTIMONIALS

Martina Neske

Founder of CHOM CAPITAL

„At Frankfurt School, we recruit committed, intelligent, and above all, thoughtful young talents for CHOM Capital. It is therefore our pleasure to establish scholarships and support students. Frankfurt School is far more than a business university. It is a meeting place and vibrant hub for open debates on relevant issues in finance, economic policy, and major transformational topics. And that is precisely what I value so highly!“

Martina Neske is founder of CHOM CAPITAL, an owner-run asset management boutique, which she also founded. CHOM CAPITAL actively engages with Frankfurt School in various ways, such as offering internships and working-student jobs, among other things, and supporting students with scholarships. On a personal level, Martina Neske shares her experiences and expertise, having spoken at the FS Women's Society. She also gives lectures for the Master of Finance programme.

Dennis Mahoutchian

Frankfurt School Alumnus

Class of 2011

„From day one, students at Frankfurt School encounter attentive, open, and experienced individuals who are interested in them, open doors for them and support them in pursuing their careers. I personally have benefited immensely from this incredible network. As a graduate, I am in a different role, and I am happy to support students by funding the scholarships.“

Dennis Mahoutchian studied Business Administration at Frankfurt School from 2006 to 2011. Already during this time, he was actively involved with our community – for example, by organizing various student conferences. Today, he works for a major American bank.

Claudia Pörings

Freelance consultant

„I have benefited immensely from discussing ECB decisions, the economic significance of a financial centre or corporate mergers with Frankfurt School faculty. I continue to hold Frankfurt School in the highest regard. Since I highly value contact with students, I donate to their scholarships.“

Claudia Pörings first became acquainted with Frankfurt School during her time as Head of the ZDF (German public TV station) Finance News Department. Since then, a genuine friendship has been built. Today, Claudia Pörings works as a freelance consultant and is involved in non-for-profit organisations such as the Bündnis Ökonomische Bildung (Alliance for Economic Education) or the International Club of Frankfurter Wirtschafts-journalisten (ICFW, International Club of Frankfurt Business Journalists).

Joachim Lauterbach

CEO and Chairman of the Management Board
WM Gruppe

„Frankfurt School is outstanding with regard to research, teaching and education. In addition, its faculty members actively seek and value engagement with the professional world. As such, Frankfurt School serves as cherished source of inspiration for us. We are involved in research and receive valuable insights into our strategic questions that effectively help us move forward. As a result, the Frankfurt School plays an important role as a source of inspiration for decision-makers. We are delighted to support the school in maintaining and expanding this position and in providing the market with highly qualified talent who will carry this spirit forward. Young talents in particular need the best possible support in this complex world, regardless of their personal or financial background. We are pleased to support a new professorship in Financial Technology, the Philipp Sandner Memorial Award in Digital Finance Research, and, of course, scholarships.“

Joachim Lauterbach is CEO and Chairman of the Management Board of the WM Group. He has been associated with Frankfurt School for many years, speaking regularly at conferences and teaching entrepreneurship.

Dr. Peer Günzel

Geschäftsführer
DAL Deutsche Anlagen-Leasing

„Frankfurt School is synonymous with excellent education and highly motivated young professionals. It goes without saying that we are committed to supporting students from an early stage through offering internships and funding scholarships.“

Dr Peer Günzel is Managing Director of DAL Deutsche Anlagen-Leasing. The company is committed to providing scholarships, thereby specifically offering support to young talents.

Christoph E. Rabenseifner

Managing Director,
Chief Strategy & Innovation Officer,
Head of Corporate Venture Capital
Group, Deutsche Bank AG

„Technology is a key driver of innovation for the banking and financial industry, and naturally for Deutsche Bank as well. We therefore wholeheartedly support Frankfurt School's initiative on financial technology. We contribute to the Master's programme with guest lectures and case studies, and value the exchange with the professors – and we are financially involved and enable scholarships.“

Christoph E. Rabenseifner and his team have been actively involved in the Master in Financial Technology programme since its launching – giving feedback to the curriculum, holding guest lectures, and donating generously to scholarships. This is what makes Deutsche Bank a valuable sparring partner for Frankfurt School on all matters relating to financial technology.

SCHOLARSHIP HOLDERS' TESTIMONIALS

Basem El-Hawary

Master of Finance

Class of 2027

„In 2019, I obtained a Bachelor of Science degree with a specialisation in solar energy. Since then, I have been working in this sector. It is key to mobilize financial resources to make the transformation to renewables happen. This is why the Master of Finance programme is the ideal addition to my expertise. I am grateful for the network Frankfurt School provides and for the generous support by CHOM Capital“.

Basem El-Hawary is a student in the Master of Finance programme (Class of 2027). He looks back on many years of professional experience with a renewable energy solutions provider in Egypt. His scholarship is made possible by CHOM Capital.

Antonia Dellert

Master in Real Estate

Class of 2027

„The scholarship is a major financial relief. Just as important is that I've been able to make valuable new contacts through the Frankfurt School Community' and its many donors.“

Momeni supports Antonia Dellert, Master in Real Estate programme (Class of 2027). The former sprinter has trained at the German Athletics Association's national training centre in Frankfurt am Main until March 2025.

Timo Hillen

Master of Finance

Class of 2027

„During my Bachelor programme at the Deutsche Bundesbank's University of Applied Sciences, I became interested in the correlation between finance, sustainability and macroeconomic trends. I am therefore all the more delighted that I can pursue and further develop these very interests at Frankfurt School.“

Timo Hillen received his Bachelor's degree at the Deutsche Bundesbank's University of Applied Sciences. He is currently enrolled in the Master of Finance programme (Class of 2027) and is a scholarship holder of DAL Deutsche Anlagen-Leasing.

Minqi Lin

Master in Financial Technology

Class of 2027

„Driven by the rapid adoption of machine learning and modern data infrastructure, the financial sector is evolving faster than ever. To thrive amidst shifting regulations and market cycles, professionals need both deep analytical rigor and strategic foresight. Frankfurt School's Master in Financial Technology provides exactly this quantitative framework. I can fully dedicate myself to exploring these frontiers.“

After earning her Master's in Applied Social Data Sciences from the London School of Economics, and building five years of professional experience in the Chinese capital markets, Minqi Lin decided to further advance her expertise at Frankfurt School: The Master in Financial Technology (Class of 2027). WM Gruppe provides her scholarship.

THE POSSIBILITY SCHOLARSHIP

The Possibility Scholarship has three funding tracks that are set by our donors. The application for a scholarship is incorporated into the application for a degree programme. All applicants are required to undergo a meticulous selection process, thereby ensuring that our students are qualified, motivated, and engaged individuals.

THE FUNDING TRACKS

INTERNATIONALITY

Every person who has studied abroad knows: it is a life-changing experience. The benefits go both ways. International students bring their mindset and a breath of fresh air to our lectures and seminars, to campus life and our community – enriching everyone's life. Let's come together to nurture talent from all over the world and foster heterogeneous ways of thinking.

STUDY PROGRAMMES

Students at Frankfurt School have a strong affinity for topics in finance and management. Many of them bring specific interests, knowledge and experiences to the table. Join us in supporting students who are passionate about a specific subject area and wish to expand their knowledge with their studies. At the same time, donors can highlight subject areas they find important.

GENDER BALANCE

Studies show that mixed teams come up with better solutions and bring fresh perspectives to the table – whether in research, teaching, or business. Mixed teams provide different approaches and at times can arrive at surprising answers. Different points of view can also create room for creativity in the decision-making process. Your Possibility Scholarship will ensure that new ideas can flourish.

EVERY SCHOLARSHIP MAKES A DIFFERENCE

A World of Possibilities describes the world of Frankfurt School. A World of Possibilities is also a promise to our students: at Frankfurt School, they will develop new horizons and perspectives – in other words, new possibilities, along with the skills to realize them.

We aim to attract talented applicants regardless of their cultural, geographical or socio-economic background. The Possibility Scholarship focuses on three topics: internationality, study programme, and gender balance.

A single scholarship can change a person's life. For our community, it means greater diversity, new perspectives, and a lasting benefit for the economy and society.

Donations for scholarships are tax-deductible. We provide a corresponding confirmation.

Frankfurt School also contributes as we match every Euro donated with our own funds!

CREATE OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

We ask you to give 5,000 Euro or 10,000 Euro to enable a Possibility Scholarship.

Your donation is tax-deductible and you will receive a corresponding confirmation.

Match-funding: Frankfurt School matches every Euro donated. Together, we double the value and impact of your donation.

JOIN OUR COMMUNITY

APPRECIATION

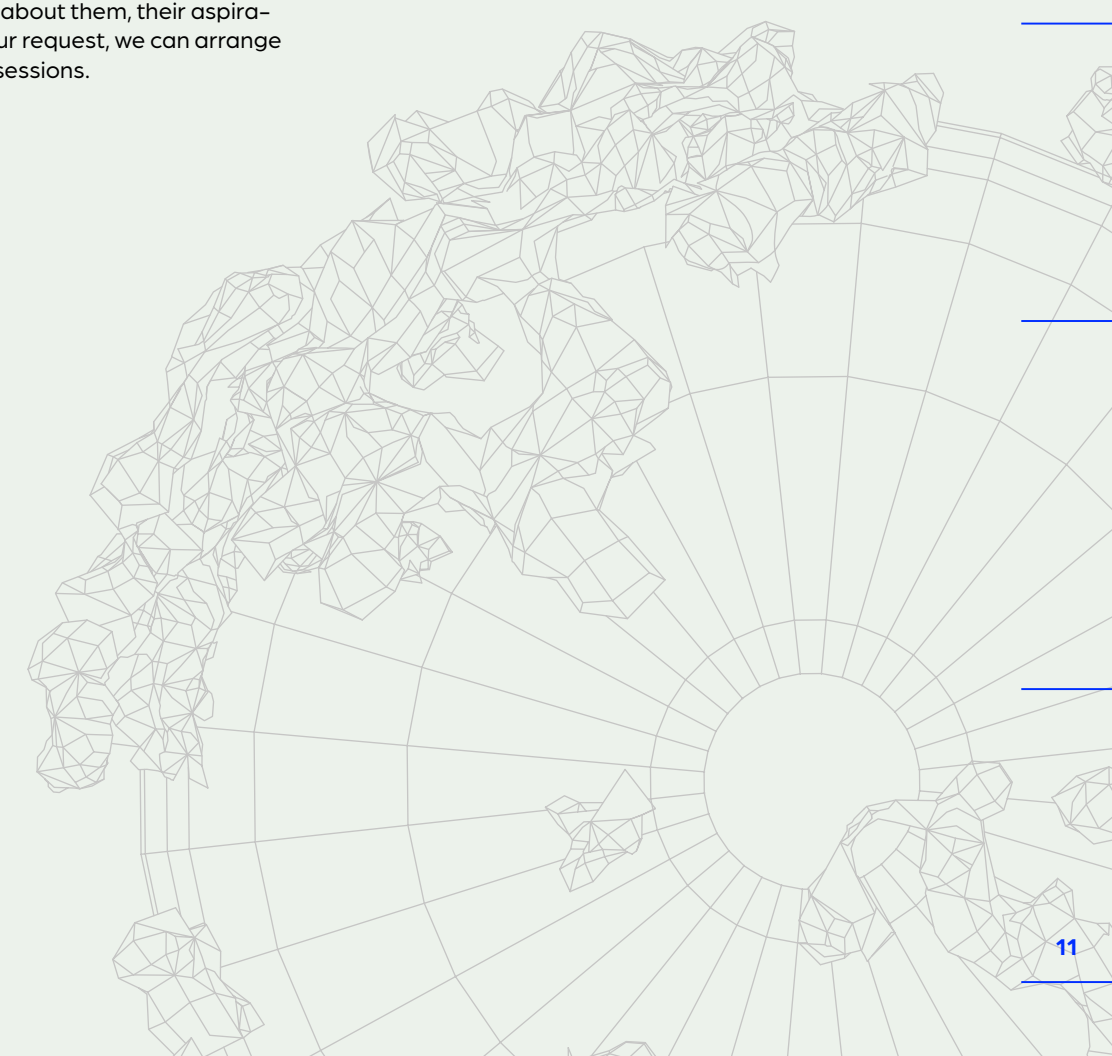

Your support deserves to be recognized. On our Donor Wall – located in the Audimax Foyer, we honor our donors as a lasting token of our appreciation. We also keep in touch and provide you with regular updates on the impact of your contribution.

NETWORK

As a member of our Community, you are invited to exclusive events, such as the Donors' & Friends' Circle, the scholarship award ceremony, lectures, and panel discussions. You will meet friends and create new connections with like-minded individuals from the worlds of business, politics, and academia.

INVOLVEMENT

We would be delighted to see you get in touch with your scholarship holders to learn more about them, their aspirations, and their future plans. At your request, we can arrange tailored mentoring and coaching sessions.
