

M&A Internship – Cleantech & Renewable Energy

What we offer

D.CT Deutsche Cleantech is a corporate finance firm. You will have the chance to work with highly experienced professionals with a background in investment banking, consulting and industry, who share the vision of joining forces to maximize their impact in the Cleantech space. We devote our time and effort to the challenges of renewable energy, energy efficiency and scarce resources.

At D.CT you will be given the unique chance to actively work on M&A transactions and be an integrated member of the transaction team. This includes own responsibility, challenging tasks, and a learning curve that goes beyond the normal scope of other internships.

What we look for

- Minimum 3rd semester in finance, economics, engineering or equivalent
- Excellent academic credentials and professional drive
- Ideally experience from previous internships
- Strong analytical skills coupled with knowledge of MS Excel and PowerPoint
- Be able to work under pressure and demonstrate a passion for excellence
- Commitment to work for at least 3 months
- Fluency in German necessary and excellent command of English
